DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 18-26, 28-35 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 18, 22-32 and 34-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chen and Webber in view of Bystrom. The rejection from the previous office action is incorporated herein. Additionally, Chen discloses all of the limitations except for a bore transverse to the member at an end. Thus, Bystrom teaches a bore transverse to a member. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Chen and employ a bore thru the member as taught by Bystrom in order to attach additional elements to the member.

4. Claims 18, 22-23 and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brown and Webber in view of Bystrom. The rejection from the previous office action is incorporated herein. Additionally, Brown discloses all of the limitations except for a bore transverse to the member at an end. Thus, Bystrom teaches a bore transverse to a member. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a bore thru the member in order to attach additional elements to the member.

5. Claims 18-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sanso and Webber in view of Bystrom. The rejection from the previous office action is incorporated herein. Additionally, Sanso discloses all of the limitations except for a bore transverse to the member at an end. Thus, Bystrom teaches a bore transverse to a member. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a bore thru the member in order to attach additional elements to the member.

6. Claim 33 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sanso and Webber, Bystrom in view of Brown. The rejection from the previous office action is incorporated herein. Additionally, Chen discloses all of the limitations except for a bore transverse to the member at an end. Thus, Bystrom teaches a bore transverse to a member. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a bore thru the member in order to attach additional elements to the member.
